New Wilmington Man, Quartermaster In Navy, Killed At Okinawa Oct. 9

Quartermaster Donald Eugene Whitman, USNR, 19, of New Wilmington, was killed Oct. 9 in the typhoon at Okinawa, according to a message received this morning by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Walt Whitman of New Wilmington. Word was received Sunday that he was missing.

After graduation with the class of '44, New Wilmington high school, he enlisted in the naval reserve and completed boot training at Bainbridge, Md.

Stationed in New Guinea until Christmas '44, he went from there to the Dutch East Indies, and then to the Philippines. He was aboard a mine sweeper in the battles for Okinawa and Iwo Jima.

In addition to his parents he leaves six brothers and one sister. Three brothers are in service, Lieut. Harry Floyd Whitman, U. S. N. R., aboard a carrier at Okinawa, Sgt. Vincent Allen Whitman in Germany with the combat engineers, and Kenneth Milton Whitman, seaman 2-C, stationed at Pearl Harbor.

His sister, Mrs. George H. Walker, and three brothers, Robert Bruce, Carroll Joseph, and Walt, are at home.

4. All American troops are expected to be evacuated from China, Burma and India by next July 1.

5. Overseas force by June 30, 1946 will be composed of 900,000 men or less.

6. The draft, especially of boys of 18 and 19, must be continued to provide occupation troops as not enough volunteers are anticipated for the task.

7. The United States should be able to mobilize four million men within a year after development of a national emergency.

8. Army posts built to protect the nation against the Indians should be abandoned and the postwar army should be concentrated in several centers within the country.

'SECRET' REPORTS TO BE DEMANDED

committee of the joint chiefs last April has never been made public.

"We shall certainly insist on having the benefit of that report," said Hill. "The report is favorable to a unified service, and the important thing before us is unification."

Sens. Kilgore (D., W. Va., and Johnson (D., Col., both members of the military committee and co-sponsors of another merger bill, agreed that the report should come out of the current hearings.

The senators said that while they did not have copies of the report they were generally "familiar" with its contents. The majority report submitted to the joint chiefs, with one of the two navy representatives dissenting, is understood to set up a single department of armed forces with five U. S. chiefs of state to advise the President.

NEW APPROACH TO WAGE-PRICE CRISIS TO BE ATTEMPTED

posals to President Truman. Soft coal operators and United Mine Workers John L. Lewis are awaiting any move by Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach to reopen government peace talks.

W. L. B. To Disband

3. The War Labor Board voted unanimous approval of a six point liquidation program designed to wind up the board's affairs by Jan. 1.

4. Reconversion Director Snyder called on industry to boost wages as much as possible to maintain purchasing power of workers but also warned labor not to demand too much at the risk of disastrous inflation. Snyder appealed for the cooperation of both business and labor in working out the problem.

The action of the WLB apparently precluded any major role for that agency in formulation of a new government wage-price policy. It left up to President Truman the task of creating new machinery to settle reconversion labor disputes and develop an administration program on the wage-price front.

The WLB suggested that a blue ribbon commission of industry, labor and public representatives be set up to do the job but the proposal found little favor in administration circles.

Another idea is to establish separate panels to handle a few major wage cases and thereby establish an interim policy.

LOWER POINTS FOR NAVY DISCHARGES

149 Navy personnel have been released under the demobilization program, an increase of 56,443 over the number expected to be demobilized at this time. The Navy added that approximately 10,000 officers and men are now being returned to civil life daily.

Speed Demobilization

The Navy declared its demobilization plans are based on two considerations. First, a determination to demobilize as rapidly as possible; and second, a determination to keep demobilization promises practicable and attainable.

With plans now shaping up, commanding officers immediately will be authorized to retain personnel eligible for release for no more than 90 days, and only in cases of military necessity.

The Navy also said that effective November 1 all married nurses will be demobilized. The point scores for unmarried nurses will remain at 35 until January 1, when it will be lowered to 33.

The following anticipated future required point scores for discharge were announced:

For male officers, other than doctors: Dec. 1, 44; Jan. 1, 43.

For enlisted male personnel: Dec. 1, 39; Jan. 1, 38.

For WAVE officers: Dec. 1, 30; Jan. 1, 29.

For enlisted WAVES: Dec. 1, 24; Jan. 1, 23.

For medical officers: Dec. 1, 53; Jan. 1, 51.

MOVE TO ABOLISH JAPANESE WAR, NAVY MINISTRIES

to repeal all laws controlling religious organizations in accordance with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Oct. 4 directive granting religious freedom to all sects and creeds in Japan.

The cabinet's action cut off governmental financial support of selected religious groups and abolished Shintoism as a state religion. It was the followers of Shintoism who had drilled into the Japanese mind that the Emperor was both God and chief of state and could do no wrong.

The cabinet previously directed Japan's huge monopolistic business enterprises to fold up and business barons complied at once in the face of a threat by MacArthur's economic and scientific section to issue anti-monopoly directives.

Competitive Business

Wholesale resignations of family executives heading interlocking bank, industrial and banking firms were announced as the nation prepared to place all businesses on a competitive basis for the forthcoming export program.

MacArthur has granted the government permission to export those items which the nation can produce to pay for food and clothing desperately needed to stave off mass suffering through the coming winter.

Tokyo's first hunger demonstration was staged yesterday by a mob of five thousand persons who paraded through the streets carrying banners which pleaded "Save us from starvation."

Despite the nation's desperate food situation, Emperor Hirohito ironically observed the traditional "Kannameshi" today, a holiday set aside to celebrate the first fall harvest.

The Emperor issued a special harvest festival order granting freedom to 300,000 prisoners held in Japanese prisons and reducing the sentences of one million other convicts.

MINERS ORDERED BACK TO WORK BY NEXT MONDAY

production Monday, October 22, Lewis notified the membership "Company men and cutting crews will start to work at any necessary time in advance."

The officers of the United Clerical, Technical and Supervisory employees of the mining industry in unit of UMW District 56 are issuing similar instructions to their own membership, so that the mines will be properly examined and made safe before entry by mine workers. Each member of the United Mine Workers is requested to cooperate fully with this policy.

Lewis' action brightened the over-all national labor picture, considerably, amidst concentrated administration efforts to hammer out a new reconversion wage-price policy. The administration enlisted the services of the 12-member advisory board of the office of war mobilization and reconversion in a new approach to the tangled wage-price problem, cause of the current industrial unrest.

Threatens New Shutdown

Lewis declared emphatically that any attempt by coal companies to penalize miners for participation in the present stoppage will bring a new shutdown of the mines.

"Any attempt by individual coal companies to assess and collect fines, discharge employees, impose hardship or demotion, or in any other manner harass our members for participation in the present stoppage should be promptly reported to the local union directed to the district officers," he said.

District officers will then promptly file 30-day notices of strike vote with the National Labor Relations Board, under the provisions of the infamous Smith-Connally slave law. District officers and all authorized field representatives are instructed to cooperate effectively in the execution of this policy.

claim that the strike is broken. Therefore, he said, the IILA can resume contract negotiations with the shipping association.

The activities of the CIO-NMU and of Harry Bridges, west coast CIO longshoremen leader who is now in New York, have helped solidify AFL strength back of Ryan Bridges won control of AFL unions in the west by seizing power after strikes, and his entrance into the New York situation has alarmed AFL leaders.

Groups of longshoremen, including 50 army veterans in Brooklyn, who returned to work were peered by longshoremen (assured) and by NMU sailors but the 1,600 policemen, many of them mounted, prevented any fighting yesterday.

One of the most persistent is a one-legged robin who can't balance himself well enough to pick at the fruit on the branches so he waits until the other birds knock a plum to the ground and then jumps on it.

Despite the several frosts that we have had thus far, quite a few robins persist in blooming on the bushes atop the Court House knoll facing County Line street and East Washington street. The deep pink blooms give a note of cheer.

SEEK FURTHER CUTS IN TAXES

on taxation and the finance committee of United States Rubber Co. urged a flat 20 per cent reduction in these taxes.

Both recommended that the excess profits tax be repealed by the end of this year. Alford said the carryback of unused excess profits tax credit should be retained for two years after the levy is wiped off the books.

Alford recommended that the corporate normal and surtax rate be reduced as much as revenue requirements will permit. He also called for repeal of the renegotiation act or approval of a provision to allow against renegotiable profits the expenses allowable for income tax purposes, up to next December 31.

The C. C. C. spokesman endorsed the rest of the bill but questioned the wisdom of continuing the lag tax and converting it at a 10 per cent rate into a retail excise.

Needed To Speed Jobs

Alford and Humphreys argued for tax relief on similar grounds that it is needed to speed reconversion and provide jobs.

The NAM official declared that reductions in the House bill are "too little and too late," while Alford said that successful reconversion rests upon "sound public policies" including a reconversion of Federal fiscal policies.

He urged permanent peace maintenance of government credit, maximum production and jobs for everyone willing and able to work, as the nation's basic policies and objectives.

Meanwhile, Senator George (D., Ga., chairman of the Senate Finance committee, said he expected the group to complete its work on the bill Friday and have the measure ready for Senate action next Monday.

The bill only reduces the excess profits tax from a rate of 85 per cent to 60 per cent for 1946. It provides tax relief by applying surtax personal exemptions on the individual's three per cent normal tax and lowering the surtax rate four points in each bracket, reducing excise taxes to the 1942 rate next July, ending the auto and boat "use" tax as of that date and repealing capital stock and declared value excess profits taxes at the same time.

ture an unknown quantity. He urged continuation of naval research in atomic energy.

"Until we can do this, we can not say precisely what effect atomic power will have on navies as we know them today," Forrestal said.

Rep. Cannon (D., Mo., committee chairman, expressed the view to Forrestal that "weapons may be developed which will practically obsolesce the use of the Navy at all."

After all, he pointed out, "the atomic bomb" has to be transported to the place where it is dropped."

Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, told the committee, however, that "we foresee rockets with atomic energy, as well as bombs from planes."

Marshall insisted, however, there was all the more need for a large navy because of the development of atomic power.

Atomic Bomb Is Most Powerful Of All Weapons

Navy's Expert Doesn't Believe Any Other Nation Will Make Bomb For Long While

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Admiral William R. Purnell, the Navy's atomic bomb expert, told congress today that the weapon which devastated Hiroshima might eliminate the need for any one branch of the armed forces—including the Navy, in years to come.

"I don't think anyone—even the best scientist—can say where we are going to be fifteen years from now, even if the government supports this project," Purnell told a Senate Military-Commerce subcommittee.

"You won't have to worry much about the unification of forces."

"I might wipe out the Navy—or the Army. We might find it best to launch such a move from submarines."

Purnell's statement was made in reply to a question from Sen. Fulbright (D. Ark.) whether development of the atomic bomb would eliminate the need for a powerful navy.

Lost Thinking About It

"I get lost when I start thinking about it," Purnell admitted.

"This is not just another weapon, then?" Fulbright pressed.

"It's the most powerful weapon ever developed," the admiral replied.

He told the subcommittee that the "theory" behind the bomb is not a secret but that "making a bomb is."

"I don't believe any other country can make it within quite a stretch of time," he said.

Rear Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, Navy chief of ordnance, spiked a hint given by the House Naval Affairs committee that the Navy had found a counter-measure to the atomic bomb.

"I do not know of it," Blandy declared in reply to a question from Fulbright.

Blandy said he "couldn't imagine anyone" making more than two or three atomic bombs alike, so that all could be detonated by the same counter-measure. And, he added, "You won't develop any counter-measures after a war starts."

No weapon has ever been developed in which time is so important in the development of a counter-measure, he said.

Local Soldier Gets Bronze Medal Award

Pfc. Henry Piscinieri Highly Commended For Heroism In Action; Saves Woman, Children

Mrs. Conceita Piscinieri of 1422 Thorpe street has received word from her son, Pfc. Henry Piscinieri, stating that he had been awarded the bronze medal.

He also enclosed a copy from headquarters of a citation of the incident for which he was decorated, reading as follows:

Pfc. Henry Piscinieri, infantry, U.S.A. near Kiangen, Luzon, Philippines Islands, on June 29, 1945, while his company moved along the narrow passes of the Cagayan Valley, Pfc. Piscinieri was acting first scout on a combat patrol. His squad was fired upon by three enemy riflemen. He immediately killed the three enemies with his M1 rifle. As he crawled down a steep incline, he observed a woman and two children near a cave. As he moved forward, a desperate enemy ran toward the cave carrying a hand grenade. He killed the Japanese and transported the woman and children safely back to his squad. Pfc. Piscinieri's heroic action is a credit to the military service, and is deserving of high praise.

SUN BURN

Every summer there is the usual crop of sun burn cases. Some people are unfortunate enough to get a dose of it every summer. With other people one experience is enough.

Gradual exposure to sun shine from early summer through hot weather does not seem to cause any trouble.

Sudden or prolonged exposure to a person not accustomed to it is what causes trouble.

Sometimes the bad effects of sun exposure do not show up till winter comes.

It is probably best to wear a hat when in bright sun shine.

New Wilmington Man Writes Of Trials As Missionary To Egypt

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 17.—Preaching, teaching, gardening, caring for the illnesses of man and beast, and writing letters for those unable to write English are a few of the duties which befall a missionary in Egypt. Rev. John Lowrie Anderson, graduate of Westminster College in 1922, writes to President R. F. Galbreath.

Rev. Anderson, stationed at Abwong, Sudan, told of the feeling of relief and thanksgiving which greeted word of the Jap surrender even though the news was late getting to his isolated home.

Dr. Galbreath read the letter at chapel and the students were awed as Anderson told of the wild beasts which abound near his home but they chuckled as he told of the native leader who was paralyzed with fright and then tried to outwit the figure of himself he viewed in a mirror.

The letter was concluded with the message that "God is working in the hearts of the people." Anderson, residing in New Wilmington before taking up his missionary duties.

State Secretary Of Labor Hears Claims Of Miners

Miners' Claim For Unemployment
Compensation Argued Before
State Official Tuesday

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Secretary of Labor and Industry William H. Chesnut had "under advisement" today claims that Pennsylvania's 62,000 idle bituminous miners were victims of "lockouts" and therefore eligible for immediate unemployment compensation.

Representatives of the United Mine Workers of America asked Chesnut during a meeting yesterday to reconsider a ruling of state unemployment officials compelling soft coal miners to wait five weeks before obtaining benefits. A four-week penalty is enforced in industrial disputes while a one-week period normally is required by law.

The miners contended the work stoppage, which began September 21, was precipitated by the Foremen's Union, reportedly affiliated with the UMWA, and that production employees were "prevented from going to work."

"We have no quarrel with the operators and hence there is no industrial dispute," a union spokesman said.

He pointed out miners were sent home by operators when they were unable to have mines inspected daily by supervisors as required by law.

Producers charged the "entire disturbance is part of a concerted effort on the part of the UMWA to organize supervisory employees."

Could Not Be Settled

Frank G. Smith, of Clearfield, counsel for the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers association, said the matter "could be settled by John L. Lewis," union chief.

"He is the only man who can get the men back to work," he declared. "Claims that an affiliation existed between the production workers' unit and the foremen's branch were pressed by John Corcoran, of Pittsburgh, attorney for the Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators Association."

"It's all one union and engaged in a drive to increase membership by enrolling supervisors," he asserted. "As I see it, this is nothing more than an effort to try to use public funds to bring about the organization of these employees."

"It is ridiculous to say that this is not an industrial dispute," he declared.

Sea-Going Lothario
At Great Lakes To Face Court Martial

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Oct. 17.—(INS)—A sea-going Lothario who allegedly married two women, fathered three children and is the expectant parent of a fourth child by a third woman today awaited a general court-martial at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

He is Chief Specialist Wilfred L. Whitey, Wiedenbacher, 32, of Duquesne, Pa.

Military charges against the sailor include breaking arrest, being absent without leave, violation of uniform regulations, and scandalous conduct which the ninth naval district public relations office said included the marriage mixup.

Mrs. Esther Wiedenbacher of Duquesne, mother of his three children, claimed he married his second wife without divorcing her.

Mrs. No. 34—Wag. Cpl. Florence E. Matlike, 27—said Wiedenbacher showed her "proof" of his divorce before she married him June 9.

A third woman from Beloit, Wis., charged she divorced her husband on Wiedenbacher's promise of marriage and that she is expecting a baby.

Mrs. John Wardle and daughter, Beryl Kay, of Pittsford, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. William McCracken.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Anderson, of Sharon, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Milt Anderson.

Will Reopen Hearings On Atomic Bomb

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(INS)—The house military affairs committee voted Tuesday to reopen public hearings on atomic energy legislation Thursday.

The decision was taken in response to demands by scientists and others that they be given an opportunity to testify before the committee on the May-Johnson bill. The administration-backed measure places all control over atomic development in the hands of a presidentially-appointed nine-member commission.

Will Hear Scientists
The committee announced that representatives of scientists who worked on the government's atomic bomb project at Oak Ridge, Tenn., New Mexico, and the University of Chicago, would be invited to testify. Earlier Rep. Holtzfield (D-Calif.) expressed fears that under the proposed bill a majority of the commission might be "military people" who would tend to restrict civilian development of atomic energy.

"We have only heard the proponents of the bill, those who helped to draw it up," commented Holtzfield. "To me it seems very sensible to call in the physicists who were in on the atomic project and get their ideas on what type of commission should be picked."

Action in the senate has so far been stymied by a jurisdictional dispute over what committee should handle the Johnson bill. It was expected that a special senate committee would be established to consider atomic legislation.

Rep. May (D-Ky.) house military affairs committee chairman, has been striving, however, to report out the legislation as quickly as possible in response to the urging of Secretary of War Patterson and other war department representatives.

Charges Filed In Marriage Racket

Three Squires, Allegheny County Policemen Face Charges
Result Of Probe

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Three squires and a county policeman were charged with a wholesale marriage racket ending a five-week probe into the activities of the courthouse squires.

Squires Stephen Marcus Glassport and Michael A. Rudman, of Bradock Township, were each charged with 10 counts involving extortion, misbehavior in office, conspiracy and perjury.

Informations charging six counts of conspiracy were filed against Squire J. Dale Gamble, Oakdale, and county policeman Owen F. Downs.

The investigation conducted by State Police Sgt. Eugene Fontaine and County Detective Milton Howard, followed charges by a sailor, Richard Baker, Jr., that he and his bride were charged $10 for a license which should have cost $5.50.

The information charged that the squires predated marriage applications in return for an extra fee.

Commission Studies Decedents' Estate Laws For Revision

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—(INS)—A 31-member advisory committee composed of judges and lawyers was slated today to confer at Harrisburg November 14 with a joint state government commission subcommittee considering revision of the decedents' estate laws of 1917.

"An overhauling of the decedents' estate laws is regarded as essential, and for that reason the legislature in 1945 charged the joint state government commission with the study," a committee spokesman said.

Invited to serve on the advisory committee were Judges Karl E. Richards, Dauphin county; Ethan A. Grachar, Lehigh county; Frederick A. Marx, Berks county; Walter Brahm, Lancaster county; A. Kirk Wrenshall, Washington county; J. Frank Graft, Armstrong county; Thomas P. Trumble, Allegheny county; Andrew Honrigan, Luzerne county; David G. Hunter, Philadelphia; and J. Colvin Wright, Bedford county.

M. Paul Smith, editor of the Fiduciary Review, and a Montgomery county attorney was named by the committee to direct the study of the laws.

Can Forecast Oil Production

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—(INS)—What will happen in an oil producing area can now be forecast up to 20 years in advance through a device now in use, a spokesman for the Gulf Oil Corporation today disclosed.

It is an electrically-operated miniature oil field. The model will save large quantities of oil heretofore lost beneath the earth's surface.

It is designed to tell just how much oil can be produced from a given field and the most efficient plan for the extraction of the oil. It will aid in determining the location and the number of wells, the desirable rate of flow per well, and the amount of water and gas needed to force the oil to the surface.

The model is already in practical use and is contributing to economy in oil production.

Must Unite Or Be Destroyed, Scientist Says

University Of California Physics
Professor Has Worked On Atomic Power

LOS ALAMOS, N. M., Oct. 17.—(INS)—Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, who was credited with implementing atomic power for war purposes, warned that the peoples of the world must unite or perish in the new-born atomic age.

Dr. Oppenheimer, the University of California physics professor who directed the secret atomic bomb laboratory from its beginning three years ago, spoke for the workers, Los Alamos, upon presentation of a long-delayed Army-Navy "E" production award.

"It is our hope," said the scientist, "that in the years to come we may look at this certificate and all that it signifies with pride."

"But, today, that pride must be tempered by a profound concern."

Peoples Must Unite
"If atomic bombs are to be added as new weapons to the arsenals of a warring world, or to the arsenals of nations preparing for war—then the time will come when mankind will curse the names of Los Alamos and Hiroshima."

"The people of this world must unite or they will perish by our works. We are committed to a world united before this common peril in law and in humanity."

Others speaking at the ceremony delayed two years for security reasons at the secret work continued— included Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, new assistant chief of the U. S. Engineers, who directed the atomic bomb project in its many branches throughout the nation, and Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California, which carefully gathered the instruments and scientists for the secret laboratory hidden in New Mexico's mountains.

Plan To Send 86 Camp Show Units To Japan

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(INS)—If you can sing or dance, and are reasonably good-looking—here's a ticket to Tokyo!

Gen. Douglas MacArthur wants you, and so do the USO camp shows, to entertain the thousands of fun-hungry G. I.'s in the Pacific theatre.

The plan is now to send 86 camp show units of 1,200 persons, if possible, within the next 90 days. This is definitely a speeding-up process, since only 1,137 entertainers have been dispatched to the area since 1942.

Need Entertainers
The war department announced recently that General MacArthur has urgently requested 1,200 more stage, screen and radio personalities be sent to entertain occupation armies. Praising the work of camp show entertainers, he said they contributed "materially to maintenance of high morale."

Headquarters of USO camp shows in New York revealed that the request had privately come on Sept. 30, through Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the Eighth Army.

They were asked for twelve musical shows, twelve legitimate dramas, and 62 variety shows—complete for finished performances.

Sign Up For Six Months
"We're pressed for time," a camp shows spokesman confided, "but we're doing our best. We're using notices in the daily papers and theatrical trade journals to notify the performers who might be interested."

The entertainers sign up for six months, though they may stay longer, if they like, as camp shows are sent out from New York.

On top of the request, General MacArthur, the camp shows organization received another a few days ago from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. He wants them to send over 30 to 40 units to replace those who are coming back from the European theatre.

These witnesses will require travel escorts and special camps must be built to accommodate them.

An enormous pile of documents and pictures form part of the prosecution's evidence. Kerr now has more than a hundred charges against Yamashita, and each charge actually is a separate case against the "Tiger of Malaya."

For instance, supplementary charges include the incident last February when the Japanese hanged men and women and publicly mutilated them.

The courtroom will be filled with cripples of all kinds—crippled as a result of Japanese atrocities; these witnesses include some men on whom the Japanese didn't do such a good job of beheading.

Kerr predicts that the proceedings probably will be one of the most gruesome trials ever held.

Rescue Youth Marooned Atop 150-Foot Stack

DETROIT, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Steeplejack Frank Wimmer, 21, was rescued Tuesday from the top of a 150-foot smoke stack in Melvindale, where he became marooned for three hours.

Wimmer was lowered to the ground from the smoke stack of the Darling company, a rendering concern, by a hoist, Malcolm Dickerson, 44, another steeplejack, climbed up a guy wire to within 20 feet of where the younger man sat on his dangerous perch.

Then with a long bamboo fishpole Dickerson passed a rope to Wimmer. The hoist was attached to the rim of the stack and the marooned steeplejack was lowered to the ground. Melvindale firemen who witnessed the rescue were unable to reach the trapped man with ladders.

Wimmer became marooned when a hoist he used to get on the rim of the stack fell down.

Plans Virtually Complete For Big Armistice Day Here

General Committee Reviews Program At Meeting In V.F.W. Hall Monday Evening

Plans for the annual observance of Armistice Day, which will take place here November 12, with a parade and dance, have virtually been completed, General Chairman T. John Stoner announced today following the meeting of the general committee in the rooms of Ne-shanock Post, V. F. W.

The parade committee, of which E. R. Skogger is chairman, announced that the parade line of march has been decided upon. The parade will form on South Mill street, move up Mill to Croton avenue, and thence to East Washington street down Washington street to the Diamond, disbanding on North Jefferson street. It will be reviewed from the reviewing stand between Mill street and Apple Way.

The Retail Merchants association and liquor dealers have promised to co-operate with the parade plans by closing their doors at six p. m. The parade will start at 7:30 o'clock.

The program will be followed by a dance at the Cathedral for all discharged veterans and for the men in service and their ladies. The dance committee consists of Peter McGinty, chairman; Lee R. Hanna and John R. Jones, American Legion post commanders, and Dr. M. P. McCann and Jack Williams of the V. F. W. with William Dickson of the United Spanish War Veterans. A corps of women will assist with the serving of lunch at the dance.

The bands taking part in the parade will be led at the U. S. O. center.

State Prepared For Postwar Era Says Governor

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin said today that careful planning of postwar projects coupled with the accumulation of a $110,000,000 budget surplus had prepared the commonwealth for the transition from war to peace.

In the fourth in a series of progress reports covering the past two years, the chief executive declared the sudden advent of world peace found the commonwealth of Pennsylvania alerted for entry into the postwar era.

He pointed out that the preliminary work on a five-year highway project, estimated to cost $345,000,000, had been started.

Only availability of men and materials delayed the actual work ready to be proceeded with immediately," he added.

The governor explained plans were ready for an overall improvement program costing $184,855,000 "without entailing any rise in taxes or imposition of any new taxes."

The other speakers, who will talk on various phases of community responsibility, are S. M. R. FACTS ABOUT THE COAL STRIKE

AFTER more than a week of conferences with the operators committee and the Secretary of Labor, Mr. John L. Lewis and officials of the United Mine Workers are still adamant in refusing to respect their contractual obligations and call off the illegal strikes on the issue of unionization of supervisory forces in the coal industry.

Mr. Lewis says this "major convulsion" is necessary because his union has to force the operators to recognize a pseudo union, The United Clerical, Technical and Supervisory Employees Union of the Mining Industry Division of District 50 UMWA, which he has set up in an effort to circumvent the union's existing contract with the operators.

Mr. Lewis is seeking through the pressure of this strike, which is causing a daily loss of more than 1,000,000 tons in production and threatening the economy welfare of the entire nation, to force recognition of this dummy union. The situation is acute and easily can be long drawn out and expensive to all.

Companies Support Supervisors

Mr. Lewis has recognized for a long time that there are very good reasons for separating representatives of management in the mines from the workers union, and stated so for public record as late as 1939:

The coal industry does not intend to be forced by Mr. Lewis' arbitrary attitude to concede its legal rights on a matter involving the welfare of more than 25,000 employes. Most of the companies have given their pledge to their supervisory forces that they will not desert them in this contest.

Mr. Lewis' attempt to excuse his violation of contract by trying to place responsibility for organization work with its attended coercion and threats upon his pseudo union is made to appear very flimsy by the record of testimony in the Jones & Laughlin supervisory case before the National Labor Relations Board.

Robert J. Condra, secretary-treasurer of this so called union, testified that it had no charter, no constitution and no by-laws. He said that orders came directly and solely from John O'Leary, international vice president of the UMWA, and first lieutenant of Mr. Lewis. He declared that even the part of the so-called union's name indicating a connection with District 50 was misleading because there never had been dealings of any type with District 50.

The operators are opposed to unionization of their representatives in and around the mines and do not believe such a move has the true support of this group of workers, who KNOW they are a part of management and that without this management coal mines could not be run safely, economically and efficiently.

Safety Factor Is Issue

There is a further matter of safety in the mine involved because the supervisors are certified officers of the state, responsible for the enforcement of the law in the pits. Richard Maize, veteran secretary of mines for Pennsylvania, testified at the Jones & Laughlin hearing that a union of foremen affiliated with the United Mine Workers union, would be bad from the standpoint of safety in the mines.

Wise miners will not want to work in mines where those trained and competent to manage and direct the work and the working forces can be prevented from exercising their skill and judgment because of orders from those they are paid to direct.

SUPERVISORS ARE MEN OF TRAINING, RESPONSIBILITY AND EXPERIENCE. THEY WERE SELECTED FOR THEIR POSITIONS BECAUSE THEY DEMONSTRATED THEIR ABILITY TO ACCEPT AND EXERCISE THEIR AUTHORITY WITH DISCRETION AND JUDGMENT. Virtually all are ambitious to better their situation. They realize they cannot become managers if they are compelled to take orders directly or indirectly from the men working under them, a condition which certainly would occur if they were forced into membership with the UMWA.

Lewis Ignores Legal Machinery

It seems worthy to point out that in approving strike action at a time when the stockpiles of coal are at a low point, Mr. Lewis has ignored legal means of proving that his dummy supervisors union is a bona fide one and that supervisors organized into the same union with workers constitute a proper collective bargaining unit under the law.

He refuses to wait for a final decision through legal channels. If he did this, of course, there would be no necessity for the present strike. We want to emphasize that coal production will be resumed by the operators immediately if the United Mine Workers of America follow the procedure established by law in the matter of bargaining. We stand ready to resume the negotiations with the Mine Workers officials over the possible reclassification of men who now are exempt from union membership but whose duties might no longer make them a part of management.

Two-Story, Eighty Feet Long Building Extension To Plant: Originated 40 Years Ago

Work has commenced on the extension of the Linger Light Dairy plant building on West Madison avenue.

A two-story building is in course of erection, about doubling the present capacity, with a depth of 160 feet and 40 feet wide to an alley.

The business was originated by Dick Thompson of the Enon Valley road 40 years ago, who sold out to a few of his employees about seven years ago.

Linger Light went into its new present building about nine years ago. There are about 24 persons in their employ.

In the new addition new modern refrigeration equipment will be installed, place for storage and room for drivers to load and unload in inclement weather. Another well has been drilled, securing water for the plant Tuesday afternoon.

Institute Program Brought To Close

County Teachers End 92nd Institute
Program In Union Township
High School

With the sessions Tuesday afternoon, which were addressed by Otto M. Browne, auditor and member of the New York State Legislature, and Alvin C. Goodard, authority on international relations, the 92nd annual institute of the Lancaster County Teachers was brought to a close.

Both speakers proved exceptionally fine and their discussion addressed pertinent to the post-war world and today's educational trends.

A. R. Hezeman, regional director of bond sales for the Treasury Department, spoke to the teachers and principals on the need for continued sale of bonds, and was stamps in the schools to speed up the war program, at the morning session Tuesday.

The name of J. Arthur Throck, who was elected vice president of the county branch of the P. S. E. A. was inadvertently omitted from the list of officers of the branch, which was announced in Tuesday's issue of The News.

A Local Man Felt Like Swollen Balloon; Full Of Stomach Gas

Recently, a New Castle man stated that he used to feel like a swollen balloon after every meal. He would bloat full of gas and spit up acidulous liquids for hours after eating. Was terribly constipated. This man is one of the hundreds in this vicinity who now praise ERI-HELP. He states he was amazed at the results when he took this medicine. Now he eats what he wants without gas or bloating, and bowels are regular for the first time in years. He feels like a new man. Four Amendments Will Be Voted On

In addition to officers of the county and state, to be named on November 6, voters of Pennsylvania will be called upon to pass upon four amendments to the state constitution this year. The four are on the ballots below the list of officers, and each one, if passed will make a change in constitutional law in this state.

First Amendment

The first amendment is known as the "Good Roads Amendment." It provides that revenues from taxes, license fees on gasoline, motor trucks, motor vehicles and operators and other products used in motor transportation shall be used solely for highways, safety thereon, air navigation facilities costs and expenses incident thereto, and permitting loans from such revenues to the commonwealth only if repaid in the next fiscal year.

The amendment might well be called the anti-diversion amendment, for if passed, it will prohibit the use of money from motor sources, being used for anything except highways and air facilities. No money could be diverted from the motor fund as it has been in the past, unless it is paid back in two years, under the amendment.

Other Amendments

Amendment number two would amend section fourteen of article eight and provide for the naming of election boards at municipal elections for such terms as may be provided by law. At present the boards are named for two years. If the amendment passes the terms could be extended by act of the General Assembly to four or whatever number was set.

Amendment three would permit sheriffs of the counties of Pennsylvania to succeed themselves in office. At the present time a sheriff, like a county treasurer, may not succeed himself.

Amendment four would permit the commonwealth by law to create debt and issue bonds to the amount of fifty million dollars for the construction of public buildings, highways, drainage and sanitary systems, anti-train pollution, and food control projects, for the purpose of reforestation and for the rehabilitation and hospitalization of war veterans.

This amendment would change the present constitutional provision placing the state debt at one million dollars. This was changed temporarily some years ago when an amendment authorized the issuance of one hundred million dollars worth of bonds for highway purposes. The new amendment would raise the state debt limit to fifty million dollars.

There has been little fanfare or publicity about the amendments save for number one, the "Good Roads Amendment."

Equal Suffrage Silver Jubilee Facts Revealed

The old clock in the U. S. House of Representatives in the nation's capitol has for nearly three decades of woman's suffrage looked down upon that great legislative body without noticing any increase of femininity other than the presence of women representatives themselves.

Today there are nine women serving in the House of Representatives, and after more than a quarter of a century of presence of women as representatives there are still no girls' dolls on the desk of the speaker and no lace-edged coverings for the seats which the representatives occupy—not even the ones used by the women.

Since the first woman member of Congress was elected in 1916 there have been thirty-three women elected to the House of Representatives. Of these twenty-two were elected for a full term and nine members were elected to fill unexpired terms and one of these never served because Congress did not convene during the period for which she was elected.

The Senate has had five women members, but only one was ever elected for a full term.

The feminine section of Congress has by no means confined itself to the domestic affairs of women and the problems of housewives and mothers. A good example of this is Representative Mary Norton, of New Jersey, who is the dean of women members of Congress, having been elected eight years after the first congresswoman took her seat. She is now chairman of the important Labor committee of the House, being the first woman to head a congressional committee. Another example is Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, of Massachusetts, who has been very active in behalf of disabled veterans of World War I as well as of World War II—also Representative Clare Boothe Luce, noted playwright, who has shown a vital interest in foreign affairs and who recently toured the battlefields of Europe—From an article by Hancock Adams in the National Republic.
